

U. S. REPLIES TO LEAGUE'S SANCTION QUERY

FARMERS FAVOR A. A. A. CORN-HOG PROGRAM 6 TO 1

VOTE 26,483 FOR AND 4,680 AGAINST PLAN

Washington Officials Express Pleasure At Result

By The Associated Press.
Building majorities in favor of an A. A. A. corn-hog program in 1936 were reflected in pyramiding preliminary returns from yesterday's national referendum.
With fragments of the total balloting counted from 16 states, the vote at midnight Eastern Standard Time was 26,483 for and 4,680 against a new adjustment plan.
In Washington, A. A. A. officials expressed pleasure both at the indicated heavy vote, and at the large favorable majorities reported from sections outside the corn belt.
Only meager returns had been tabulated from the eight states of the corn belt where 708,951 adjustment contracts were signed this year. In these states, officials said they expected greatest approval of the new four-year program which is planned of the referendum vote is favorable.
The closest vote in early returns was from Illinois, one of the two largest corn-hog producing states. At midnight, the totals from that state were 2,022 for and 1,057 against the A. A. A. Illinois, with a total of 103,000 contract signers this year, was the first state to report more than 1,000 votes in opposition to the program.
From 8 a. m. to 10 p. m., corn and hog producers in 48 states marched in to county centers to vote a simple "yes" or "no" to the adjustment program.
Do you favor a corn-hog adjustment program to follow the 1936 program which expires November 30, 1937?
At Washington, reports of heavy backing were interpreted by A. A. A. officials as an indication that the farm administration would be given orders to continue its program. A light vote, they said, would have been an unfavorable sign.
Intense interest in results of the election was expressed at Washington, where opinion was expressed that the results of the corn-hog referendum might have far-reaching political implications.

GIVE TOWNSEND AUTHORITY TO PLACE VOTES

Physician Is Given Political Army Of Six Million

By Robert M. Yoder

Chicago, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend's pension plan followers today conferred on the slight, 68-year-old California doctor, and his aides the authority to place their votes in the next congressional and national elections, wherever he wishes.
The action, voted in the first national convention of "Townsend plan" enthusiasts, gave the Long Beach physician and R. E. Clements, the 42-year-old secretary of the campaign, a political army estimated by Townsend's aides at between six and seven million men and women.
The action, voted in the first national convention of "Townsend plan" enthusiasts, gave the Long Beach physician and R. E. Clements, the 42-year-old secretary of the campaign, a political army estimated by Townsend's aides at between six and seven million men and women.
Sheridan Downey of California, Union Square's running mate on the ill-starred "EPIC" ticket in the '34 elections, told the 6,067 registered Townsend delegates that "nobody can endorse any congressional candidates except national headquarters."
The resolution Downey proposed was adopted with whoops. Only a few scattered "no's" came from the crowd of oldsters, many of them over 60, the age at which under the "old age revolving pension" plan they would retire on $200 a month from the government, the money to be raised by a "2 per cent transaction tax."
By their political marching orders the Townsendites will stay entirely out of municipal or county elections. It was declared that their movement is non-partisan and interested only in pushing the enactment of the pension system into law.
Clements, a slender, well-groomed figure at Dr. Townsend's left on the speakers table, shook his "no" when asked to estimate the total voting strength enlisted by the resolution.
The mild mannered, gray haired physician who proposes the Townsend plan as a cure for unemployment and crime, and a general business tonic, took no part in the business session of his first national convention. Clements spoke once, urging the passage of a resolution by which the Townsend clubs voted not to buy any literature on the subject except from the national offices.
A third resolution concentrating the Townsendites political control of the Townsend followers left it to the regional divisions and certify official speakers. Judge A. C. Routh of Los Angeles urged it "so the clubs won't be drawn into political traps."
Leaders of the campaign Dr. Townsend launched in his Long Beach, Calif., home less than two years ago, assured the convention delegates today that the system of $200 per month pensions would be "put across" no later than 1936.
No power on earth can stop the Townsend plan, Rep. Martin S. Smith, Democratic congressman from Washington's Third district, proclaimed before the packed convention hall.

HOWARD PIERSON FOUND INSANE BY COURT JURY

Youth Who Killed His Parents Will Not Be Tried For Murder

Austin, Texas, Oct. 26.—(AP)—A district court jury, adjudge Howard Pierson insane today, relieving the 21-year-old youth of the immediate prospect of facing trial for the murder of his parents, William Pierson, associate state supreme court justice, and Mrs. Pierson.
Should he be found sane at any later time he would become subject to trial. The verdict did not pass on young Pierson's sanity at the time his parents were shot to death near here.
Pierson confessed the slaying, saying he had lured his parents to the rural spot on a pretext of showing them an Indian relic. He first declared they were shot by a holdup man.
The verdict was reached after two hours deliberations and on the second ballot. At it was read, Pierson appeared indifferent.
He was turned back to the custody of the sheriff. Later the county court will order him committed to an asylum for the insane.
"We are gratified," said an elder brother, William H. Pierson. "We think it was a proper verdict."
Pierson was granted the sanity hearing on allegations that now is insane, does not know right from wrong and was incapable of making a rational defense against murder charges.
Using a pistol, he had purchased in Calverton, Pierson first shot his mother, he said, then his father, and then himself in the left arm. He admitted, officers said, firing a bullet through the head of each "to make sure they were dead."

Investigate Tax Returns Of Sen. James Watson

Former Republican Leader Denies That He Evaded Taxes

By Nathan Robertson
Associated Press Staff Writer
Washington, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Former Senator James E. Watson of Indiana revealed today the justice department had been investigating his income tax returns for two years, but flatly denied he had evaded taxes.
The former Republican leader of the senate said he had received part of a fee that his old friend and former campaign manager, Jacob R. Finkelshtein, had received from B. J. Gruber, a radio manufacturer, in a business transaction, but that it was purely a gift and had been reported as such.
Finkelshtein, Watson said, received the fee for negotiating the purchase of a radio tube factory for Gruber. The former senator denied the sum was $150,000. He said he believed he had received $50,000.
"I was Republican leader of the senate," Watson said. "I would have been a great fool to engage in tax evasion. Even if I had no moral scruples, I would have had too much political sense for that."
The government's investigation into Watson's income tax returns was disclosed following indictment of Finkelshtein in Chicago on tax evasion charges.

BROAD ISSUES BEING USED BY POLITICIANS

Perorations For And Against New Deal Rule Public

By Edward J. Duffy
Associated Press Staff Writer
(Advance)—Washington, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Although political activity increases noticeably with approach of 1936, so many uncertainties beset the prospect that leaders are confining themselves largely to broad issues.
Perorations for and against the New Deal in general continue the rule in public. Frequently when the rabid partisans gather in private, at least in Washington, the discussion gets down to these two principal, and highly speculative questions:
What would happen if the election were tomorrow?
Who will be the republican presidential nominee?
Hardly any newsworthy event passes without being analyzed in the light of possibilities under those questions. It was so again this week, with agreement conspicuous by its absence.
Both sides were awaiting the outcome of today's corn-hog referendum, supreme court dicta on A. A. A. TVA and other New Dealings, the fortunes of relief and budgetary policies, whether war would flare in Europe and future market trends, to name only a few of the unpredictable factors which could affect the direction of next year's campaigning.
There was scant disposition to sit back and let nature or politics—(ake (Continued On Page Eight)

Illinois General Assembly Convenes Tomorrow; 20 Topics Will be Considered

By Robert P. Howard
Associated Press Staff Writer
Springfield, Ill., Oct. 26.—(AP)—Vacations ended tonight for Illinois legislators. The special session season opens Monday, with a long series of emergency issues promising to keep the 36th General Assembly in Springfield for several weeks, possibly months, and with the 1936 presidential campaign adding partisan complications.
Talk at the state house was that a Christmas recess might be necessary. Administration men privately expressed the opinion that January will arrive before the legislature, accustomed to deadlocks, can settle the controversies placed before it by Governor Horner.
It will be the ninth special session to convene in Springfield in 46 months, during which time there have been two six-month regular sessions.
In addition to the ever-present topic of politics, now increased by the unsettled disputes over Democratic and Republican leadership, the legislature has had nearly twenty topics placed before it.
The major problems included in the call, which will be discussed by Mr. Horner in his message to the House and Senate at the convening hour of 8 p. m. Monday, are:
Old age pensions: Amendments are necessary to obtain federal help in paying half the $1 a day to persons of 65 after January 1. In imperfect form, the Illinois pension law was passed almost without opposition by the regular session in June.
Unemployment: Insurance. The controversy about this 7 part of the Roosevelt social security program centers on whether workers, as well as employers are to contribute to the reserve funds.
Local relief: Counties and townships, in a jurisdictional dispute over pauper responsibilities, are beginning to ask that the state also give them a part of the sales tax revenue.
Reclassification of insurance laws: Defeated at the regular session, the proposed code is sponsored by Insurance Director Ernest Palmer as a modernization and strengthening of state regulation.
Labor legislation: Labor leaders demand that the legislature, which rejected their major bills in June, correct unconstitutional features in the occupational diseases, and the health safety and comfort acts.
Highway safety and traffic regulation: New efforts will be made to license automobile drivers and detect in the 1935 traffic code are to be corrected. Mr. Horner today announced a new campaign to eliminate accidents and casualties.
School financing: The call limits action to changing the time of state aid payments, with some legislators objecting that action should be taken on a wider scope to assist the commonwealth.
There may be a second special session in a few months if the state educational commission makes its report. If possible, Democratic leaders would like to reduce the sales tax to two per cent before the April primary. They hope that the security program can be financed without new state taxes.
Mayor Kelly of Chicago, who has ignored Mr. Horner's desire for a second term, is not involved in the legislative program.
Republican leaders, several of whom are announced or potential candidates for state office, made plans for a caucus as soon as bills are introduced on the administration program.

HUNTED GUNMAN A SUICIDE IN SCHULTZ CASE

Al Stern Found Dead In Cheap Rooming House

Newark, N. J., Oct. 26.—(AP)—Albert Stern, the 31-year-old hoodlum police suspected as the major executioner in the bloody warfare that smashed the once powerful Dutch Schultz mob was found dead today in a cheap hideaway.
Suicide was the tentative verdict of chief medical examiner Harrison S. Marland, who said the chances that further investigation would point toward murder were "very small."
Described by New York detectives as "the meanest killer since the late Vincent Coll," Stern in death looked anything but the well paid hired assassin. His clothes were shabby and worn. There were no shoes in his shoes. His room rent was unpaid.
Stern's death, apparently caused by illuminating gas poisoning and strangulation, blasted police hopes that his apprehension would start them on the road to the solution of the tavern massacre in which Schultz and three henchmen were mortally wounded Wednesday night.
Hunted ever since the ruthless war on the Schultz gang began, Stern took whatever he knew with him in death. He did leave a scrawled pencil note but all it contained was a farewell to a girl he addressed as "darling." Some bloodstained newspapers and rags were found in his room, but they proved a meaningless clue to detectives.
Checked at least temporarily by the death of Stern, police sought new leads from Max Silverman, Dutch Schultz's ball bodysmen, who was cleft with him in the downtown tavern before it was swept by the fatal fusillade of gunfire.
Silverman, sought overnight by police, surrendered and was interrogated by detectives. Lieutenant Thomas Diamond, of the prosecutor's staff of detectives, announced that Silverman would be held in jail as a "material witness" in connection with the Schultz case.
He said, indicated that Dutch was "none too affluent" when he met his end.
The name of Charles (Lucky) Luciano, powerful Manhattan racketeer sought for questioning, cropped up again in the investigation when it developed that he and three of his lieutenants had visited this city on the eve of the killing.

REAFFIRMS ITS STAND OF INDEPENDENT NEUTRALITY IN ITALO-ETHIOPIAN WAR

ITALY THRUSTS HER ARMY INTO NORTH ETHIOPIA

Natives Trained By Italians Occupy Debra Sion

Rome, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Italy thrust her military forces farther into north Ethiopia today, Italian correspondents with the invaders reported to night, as native Eritrean troops captured two towns in a determined drive southward toward Makale.
The dispatches received here said the Italian-trained natives occupied Debra Sion and Tefel-Aamannot (not shown on maps). The first Eritrean advance column began its drive from Edaga Hamus, about 50 miles north of Makale, and filtered into enemy territory along main trails leading to Makale.
Edaga Hamus is a village 15 miles southeast of Adigrat, one of the first Ethiopian towns occupied by the Italian northern army.
Other indigenous troops filed into the enemy territory along mile trails converging on Makale.
The troops were reportedly received as "Liberators" by the Ethiopians, and the correspondents said "not a shot" was fired during the advance.
The dispatches did not confirm reports circulating here that the combined Italian forces in northern Ethiopia were participating in the march on Makale.
Makale, 60 miles southeast of Adigrat, is the next goal of Italy's northern army. An almost impassable region of high mountains and ravines, however, has slowed up the Italian operations.
The Eritrean troops under Italian officers advanced to occupy the Faras Mai River region.
Italian fliers, modern day scouts, discovered no massed enemy in reconnaissance flights over the Aussa region. A government communiqué said, meanwhile, "there is nothing to report" on the southern or Somaliland front.
Forces under Gen. Rodolfo Graziani in the south are pushing forward to Mogale, half-way to Addis Ababa, and to Sasa Bench, half-way to Harar. Harar has been designated as the meeting point of the northern and southern armies.
Success in this objective would link Italy's colonies of Eritrea and Somaliland.

REFRAIN FROM MAKING DIRECT COMMITMENTS

"Sympathetic Interest" Toward Ending War Expressed

By Stanley P. Richardson
Washington, Oct. 26.—(AP)—The United States through Secretary Hull tonight reaffirmed its stand of independent action, but expressed "sympathetic interest" in efforts by others to bring a halt to armed conflict.
In a formal communication to the League of Nations, the Secretary of State gave this reply to an invitation to commit the United States to outline steps taken by this government.
Carefully, Hull refrained from making any direct commitments on the League's efforts to halt the African conflict through economic pressure. In fact, the "interest" expressed in halting war was so drafted as to apply to any or all wars.
In substance, the American reply to the League's communication was a summary of steps taken by this government under the neutrality law. To this was added a reiteration of America's intention to remain uninvolved, and of its desire for an early halting of hostilities.
In the lengthy note, delivered through Hugh R. Wilson, American minister to Switzerland, to Dr. Augusto De Vasconcellos, president of the League's committee of coordination, Hull said:
"Realizing that war adversely affects every country, that it may seriously endanger the economic welfare of each, causes untold human misery, and even threatens the existence of civilization, the United States, in keeping with the letter and spirit of the pact of Paris and other peace obligations, undertakes at all times to not only exercise its moral influence in favor of peace, throughout the world, but to contribute in every practicable way within the limitations of our foreign policy to that end."
"It views with sympathetic interest the individual or concerted efforts of other nations to preserve peace or to localize and shorten the duration of war."
In recapitulating the moves made by this government under the neutrality act, embracing an embargo on arms and war materials to both belligerents, a presidential edict against American business transactions with either country and a warning to American travelers not to use ships of the combatants, Hull said: "These steps have been taken for the purpose of dealing with this specific controversy and the special circumstances presented."
The course thus pursued in advance of action by other governments represents the independent and affirmative policy of the government of the United States and indicates its purpose not to be drawn into the war and its desire not to contribute to a prolongation of the war."
At the outset, the Secretary of State referred directly to the communication from Dr. De Vasconcellos, who on Oct. 21 addressed a note to this country as well as other non-members of the League.
"In regard to your statement that the government represented on the coordination committee would welcome any communication which any non-member state may deem it proper to make to you, or notifications of any action which it may be taking in the circumstances," Hull said, "it is, of course, well known that the government and people of the United States are deeply interested in the safety of treaties and promotion of peace in every part of the world; that as a corollary to their abhorrence of war with the human suffering, the impoverishment of states and peoples, business dislocation and embittered feeling engendered by war, we are by tradition strong proponents of the principle that all difference between the family of nations should be settled by pacific means."
He emphasized that the U. S. government had "put forth every practicable effort to aid in the preservation of peace" between Italy and Ethiopia.
"When, however, it was found that hostilities existed between Ethiopia and Italy," he added, "this government, acting on its own initiative, promptly announced a number of basic measures primarily to avoid being drawn into the war, and which also would not be without effect in discouraging war."
"This policy with respect to transactions with the belligerents I now reiterate and reaffirm."

SPEED UP IN WORK RELIEF IS INDICATED

110,737 Gain In Dole Replacing Jobs In Two Days

Washington, Oct. 26.—(AP)—A speed-up in the work relief drive was indicated today when Administrator Harry L. Hopkins reported employment figures showing a 110,737 gain in dole-replacing jobs in two days.
Checking over November allotments, which have been forecast as the last federal contributions to direct relief, Hopkins said 1,421,470 persons were at work last Saturday, compared with 1,310,733 on the preceding Thursday.
But the two-day increase of 110,737, contrasted with a daily figure of 173,210 which would be required for the drive to reach its original goal of 3,500,000 jobs by Nov. 1. In the two-week period between Oct. 3 and Oct. 17, however, there was a job increase of only 184,449, or 13.178 per cent.
Officials predicted that Comptroller General J. R. McCarty's release today of most of the funds allotted to WPA would pave the way for a two-week drive, beginning Monday, which Hopkins hopes will bring him within striking distance of the goal.
McCarty approved $159,315,110 in WPA projects today, lifting the total available for selection by state administrators to $2,079,633,983. At the same time the comptroller general released an additional $28,824,633 of WPA funds, bringing WPA's active allotment to $298,458,616.

Phil LaFollette Says Third Party May Prove Strong

Declares Two Major Parties Must Purge Themselves Of Reaction

New York, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Asserting that "the country can't go on supporting anomalies," Governor Philip La Follette, of Wisconsin, predicted today that voters in the 1936 presidential election would throw their strength behind a third party in opposition to "reactionary Republicans and Democrats."
"Unless the two major parties purge themselves of reaction," he said, "a new third party will prove strong."
The 38-year-old Progressive party governor, tanned under the Bermuda sun, prepared in his hotel room today to "do a little extemporaneous speaking" update next week.
He said his personal presidential support would go to the Republicans if they nominate a candidate with a platform "sane and more progressive than the president's," but he said he thought it not improbable that "the Democrats might abandon reaction."
He said the people were "tired of supporting administrations that would permit such anomalies as hunger and packed warehouses, work to be done and widespread unemployment and abundant crops that can't sell for enough to pay farm taxes."
If the country is offered a choice between Hoover and Roosevelt," Governor La Follette predicted, "they will go for Roosevelt hands down."
"But the voters, particularly in some western states have shown that they have had enough of two alternatives, conservative Democrats and conservative Republicans, both being essentially the same."

John H. Stelle Would Cut Tax

Chicago, Oct. 26.—(AP)—State Treasurer John H. Stelle today advocated the reduction of the state sales tax from three to two per cent. He suggested that such a proposal be considered by the state legislature when it convenes in special session Monday.
Stelle's announcement followed the Friday meeting of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission, of which he is a member, at which it was disclosed that if and when the works progress administration transfers all employable to jobs only 46,427 clients will remain on relief rolls, 22,922 of whom would be eligible to share in advocated state social security legislation.

CHURCH CARPET TO BE DEDICATED AT MORNING SERVICE

Sunday morning at 10:45 Dr. Fontus, assisted by Miss Mathis, the organist, will conduct a brief service of dedication, dedicating the new carpet which has been placed in the auditorium. The old carpet has served since the church was dedicated in 1908.
The new carpet has been provided by funds created by the D and C Society, supplemented with funds from the Quilters organization which disbanded several years ago. The carpet is a beautiful design and excellent quality, much lighter than the old carpet and worshippers last Sunday noticed not only the new carpet but the fact that the room is lighter and brighter because of the color of the new floor covering.

Home Inspection to Be Carried Out In County Next Week

Accident Prevention Drive
Gains Momentum; Blanks
Sent to All Schools

The Home and Farm Accident Prevention campaign launched October 1 by the local chapter of the Red Cross to prevent unnecessary deaths and injuries in the homes of this community has been accepted everywhere with gratifying interest, according to a statement today by J. M. Hollowell, chairman of the Home and Farm Safety committee of the local chapter. Mr. Hollowell said that Superintendent of County Schools Victor Sheppard and City Superintendent of Schools Dr. R. O. Skoog have authorized the distribution of home inspection forms in the schools. Through a cooperative program worked out between the Red Cross, teachers, and principals, the children of these schools will receive home inspection blanks within a few days which they will take into the homes and apartments of this community so that an actual home inspection may be conducted.

Chapter officials stress the fact that the campaign is no flash in the pan but is to be a continuing year-round year-to-year program, national and local, to eliminate hazards in the home. The inspection campaign will continue from October 28 through November 2, forms and leaflets have been sent to all school principals, rural teachers and parochial school authorities in the county.

Rev. F. F. Formaz has given the Home Accident Prevention campaign the following endorsement: "It is a chartered obligation of the Red Cross to alleviate human misery, to prevent unnecessary death and suffering. We all know the many ways in which the Red Cross acts to meet this obligation and now Red Cross leadership is again evidenced by the nation-wide Red Cross campaign to eliminate hazards and prevent avoidable accidents in the home and on the farm. This chapter is doing its part. The Red Cross Home and Farm Accident Prevention program is, in a sense, the most laudable because so few people have given thought to the necessity of launching a project of this nature. We should, all of us, help in every way possible and it seems to me that one of the best ways to further this phase of Red Cross service locally is to patrol our own homes for hazards and eliminate them, and do it at once."

From Frank J. Flynn, president of the Morgan County Farm Bureau, the campaign has also received approval. The drive is aimed to curb farm accidents, and farmers should therefore be vitally interested. Mr. Flynn says: "I am for the Red Cross. I am for it because I like the way it solves the problems of humanity. It solves them by action. The latest example of Red Cross action to alleviate suffering is its Home and Farm Accident Prevention campaign, launched rationally and locally the first of this month. The whole power of this great organization is behind this preventive program, and danger in the home cannot help but be minimized by such concerted effort. Nearly 13,000 Red Cross chapters and branches are responsible for local ramifications of this continuing campaign. The local chapter is going its part to eliminate accident causing hazards in the home of this community. The campaign is for us, and the least we can do is to give it unqualified approval and support, and eliminate accident hazards in our homes and apartments by using the Red Cross home inspection forms now available at the chapter offices."

HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS LEARN MORE THAN COOKING IN CLASS

Urbana, Ill.—Contrary to the old-fashioned belief still held by many people, the estimated 3,000 or more Illinois high school girls enrolled in home economics food classes in approximately 328 high schools of the state are learning far more than just cooking, according to Miss Anna Bell Robinson, home economics education specialist at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

While most of the high schools maintain food preparation as a factor in their home economic courses, the work is now carried on in such a way as to give the students a wider knowledge of economic and social problems, as well as the technique and co-operation necessary in the handling of supplies and the planning and preparing of meals.

From start to finish the girls enrolled in the classes are given an opportunity to use their judgment in planning and working out the many details incident to food preparation. Miss Robinson said. Especial attention is given to the preservation of foods, particularly in the fall. The students not only can various foods but also study the various methods of preservation and learn advantages and disadvantages of each.

Kitchen convenience comes in for its share of attention, as does also the preparation of economical but unusual appetizing dishes. It is generally recognized that the average high school girl receives pretty thorough instruction at home on how to cook. Hence an attempt is being made in many high schools to supplement this knowledge by helping the girl meet the entire food preparation problem. This involves not only the preparation of the food but also its purchase, the use of various kinds of equipment, the choosing of foods necessary for a balanced diet and the general management of kitchen and dining room. The courses also encourage cooperation in the students' homes, Miss Robinson believes.

Oze Simmons 71-Yard Run For Touchdown In Second Period Pushes Iowa Ahead

By Charles Dunkley
Associated Press Sports Writer

Memorial Stadium, Champaign, Ill., Oct. 26.—(P)—Iowa's football forces, undefeated and previously three victories this season, turned their full fury on Illinois today, crushing the Illini, 19 to 0.

A crowd of 25,000 sat in sun-drenched Memorial stadium to watch a rout of the tricky, forward passing Illini, and with bulging eyes, saw great open field running of Iowa's Negro star fullback, Oze Simmons, a 21 year old youth from Port Worth, Texas.

Simmons, with a breath taking gallop of 71 yards, broke through center in the third play after the second period opened, dashed down the field into the clear and raced on to a touchdown out running his pursuers and skillfully dodging the last Illinois defense man. That gallop reminded spectators of the days of the famous "Gallop and Go" (Red Grange) who took the heart out of Illinois and started the heavier Hawkeyes on their way to a decisive victory in the fourth period the Hawkeyes crashed through the Illini line for two more touchdowns on the plunges of Captain Dick Crayne, the Hawkeyes' half back.

Sparking above the general class of the sunbaked well drilled Hawkeyes was the famed coony streak of lightning, Simmons. He frequently got away on sweeping twisting runs, flashing a remarkable change of pace, in dodging away from pursuing tacklers. The Illini were guilty of roughing him in the fourth period, once with Tom Wilson, the Illinois fullback, charging into Simmons after the ball had been declared dead and knocking him flat on his back from an upright position. This cost the Illini a 15 yard penalty and indirectly was responsible for Iowa's second touchdown.

This penalty placed the ball on the 2 yard line, from where Crayne plunged over the second Iowa score. Illinois had just advanced from its 20 yard line to midfield on passes, when Osmalock, Iowa center, snared Henry's pass on the Iowa 48 yard line and Crayne crashed through for seven. Then Simmons broke through left guard again and galloped 38 yards before he was pushed out on the ten yard marker. Bowlin drove through right guard for four yards as the third period closed.

On the second down in the final period the Hawkeyes threw a tricky lateral, Crayne to Bowlin to Simmons and lost seven yards, but Wilson came charging into Simmons and Illinois was penalized to the two yard line with Crayne plunging over.

An intercepted pass lead to the third Iowa touchdown. Henry tipped Lindberg's long pass into Lamb's hands on the Illinois 27 yard line. Iowa's end around play, Lamb to Lannon, sent the latter sweeping around to the right for a 22 yard gain to the Illinois 5 yard line. Simmons hit through the middle to the one yard marker with Crayne carrying the ball over on his second devastating plunge over right tackle.

Lamb added the extra point on his first successful kick of the year, but missed the second and Crayne, attempting the third, missed.

The Hawkeyes by their victory served notice that they are to be an important factor in the Big Ten championship race. The Hawkeyes successfully throttled Illinois' three scoring chances, breaking up the Illini forward passes and tilting the issue their own way, with a relentless steady and cutting running attack. Crayne, with Simmons, besides accounting for the three touchdowns, carried the brunt of the entire attack.

J. H. S. Wins From White Hall 21-6

Offset White Hall First Quarter Marker In Comeback

White Hall, Oct. 26.—Counting to six after being put in a hole in the first quarter here Saturday afternoon, Jacksonville High school's Crimson horde swarmed all over White Hall to drive over one touchdown in the second quarter and two more in the fourth period to win their first game of the season 21 to 6.

Trampled on during a 50 yard White Hall drive for a touchdown in the opening quarter, the Crimson three passed, made runs, and stopped whatever White Hall had to offer in the way of offense for the remaining three quarters as they fought madly for their much needed victory. Their line was charging, their interference was blocking, and their backs were lugging the ball with a ferocity heretofore unexhibited this year.

It was a sudden thrust by Ray Scott through the White Hall line for a 30 yard run to the 10 yard line that set up the Crimson for their initial touchdown. It was a long pass that scored their second in the fourth quarter, and a last second run that brought their final touchdown as the Crimson suddenly uncorked some of the ground gaining power near the pay stripe that they have shown in other games in the middle of the field.

Recover Fumble

White Hall's lone tally came after Jacksonville fumbled the opening kick-off in the middle of the field. White Hall recovering, Woodward and Wendell led the slashing assault on the Crimson forwards, the Maroon club steadily shoving Jacksonville back to the two yard line from where Woodward sneaked through the middle of the line for the touchdown. They failed to connect on the point.

Awakened with a jolt when White Hall crossed their goal line, the Crimson came back with a drive that took them to the White Hall ten yard line before it was checked. White Hall kicked out, but the Crimson were right back, this time scoring.

Scott shot through a tackle for 30 yards to the 10 yard line, picked up two more yards on the next play, and then went into the interference to aid Don Ranson on an eight yard dash off the tackle and out wide to score the touchdown. Ranson gave the Crimson the lead with a plunge for the extra point.

A 40 yard pass, from Ranson to Frank in the end zone, scored the second touchdown with startling suddenness in the fourth period after the Crimson had forced White Hall back repeatedly during the third quarter. The Crimson used a new defensive formation, with six men in the line, four back of the line, and a single safety man, to stop White Hall rushes.

Then, with only 50 seconds to go, Ranson found an opening off tackle, cut quickly to the open field, and raced over the goal line with the third touchdown for the Crimson.

The Crimson had a narrow edge in first downs, making 15 to 13 for the home club. They tried 15 passes, completed seven of them, most of them to Charley Davis, and had one intercepted. White Hall tried seven aeriels, completed two of them, and had one intercepted.

Tigers Win From Home Coming Foe

Distance Doesn't Mean a Thing as I. S. D. Gets Claws Sharp-ened.

Distance, 320 yards of it, was as easy for the Illinois School for the Deaf Tigers to get as it was hard for their homecoming rivals, the Indiana School for the Deaf, to acquire. Up and down the shower swept gridiron the Tigers trod, oiling up their machinery by scoring first on blocked punts, and then resorting to straight football with long passes to roll up an impressive 58 to 0 victory, while picking up 21 first downs to two for the visitors.

Full of fumbles at the start, the Tigers soon became accustomed to handling the slippery pigskin but the Silent Hoosiers didn't have their hands on it long enough to get used to it. The Tigers could easily have become discouraged with themselves near the start of the game, but their quick comeback, and their determined play, left no doubt about the outcome.

Indiana fumbled the opening kick-off, recovered, and then recovered an I. S. D. fumble on their own 30 but they made the mistake of trying to plunge ten yards against the Tigers, and gave up the ball eight yards ahead of the place they got the ball. The Tigers lost the ball on a penalty but Indiana fumbled a punt. Tulsa recovered, and sprinted over the goal line for the first touchdown.

From then on it was like a fire. The Tigers pushed the ball into the Indiana ten yard line, blocked a punt and the ball rolled out of the end zone for a safety.

Indiana's only threat came when they recovered an Illinois fumble inside the I. S. D. 25 yard line, but three plays later the Tigers intercepted a forward pass, and quickly ran the ball to the middle of the field as the quarter ended. They continued the attack as the second quarter opened, Zehnder throwing a 30 yard pass to Wildrich who ran over the goal line for a touchdown. Zehnder converting on a plunge.

The Tigers showed their heels to Indiana on a 70 yard drive for a touchdown, using only seven plays to cover the distance. Armano plunging over from the four yard line, and Armano kicking the added point, the half ending shortly afterwards with the Tigers leading 22-0.

Opening up with their long range guns, the Tigers chalked up another touchdown as the second half opened, Zehnder throwing one to Wildrich for 30 yards. A 15 yard Indiana penalty, and an eight yard plunge by Zehnder put the ball on the two yard line from where Armano plunged over, and Zehnder plunged for the extra point.

Eight plays covered 63 yards for another touchdown the next time the Tigers got their claws on the leather. Armano, Otter, Armano and Zehnder taking turns lugging the ball behind interference that cut a wide path through the Hoosiers. Armano made 10 yards on the pay-off play, but failed to make two yards on the next play to convert.

Indiana by this time was almost content to let the Tigers wear themselves out scoring, and the Tigers took only three plays to advance 60 yards, the last a 32 yard pass from Zehnder to Wildrich for a touchdown. Zehnder shot a basketball pass to Baumann for the point after touchdown.

The Tigers opened a 45 yard march for another touchdown, Armano streaking away from the would-be tacklers for a 30 yard sprint over the last chalk line just after the fourth period opened. They uncorked another 65 yard march Zehnder passing to Witczak for the touchdown, and Wildrich converting on a place-kick.

The Hoosiers were no match for the Tigers, having nothing that could stop their line smashes, end runs, or forward passing attack. The Tigers showed a better forward passing machine than they have had for some time. Their blocking and tackling was good, against an admittedly weaker opponent, but there was the usual spirit in the Tiger drive.

Roodhouse Defeats Carrollton 26 To 0

Two Powerhouse Charges Push Ball Over Twice In First Quarter

Carrollton, Oct. 26.—Roodhouse Railroaders railroaded Carrollton, defending Illinois Valley champions, out of the immediate picture here this afternoon with a brilliant display of power, marching down the field twice in the opening quarter to register touchdowns which counted in a 26 to 0 victory over the team that dumped them out of the title last year.

Rolling up the convincing total of 300 yards from scrimmage, the Railroaders shoved Carrollton all over the field with the exception of the third quarter when Carrollton rose up to stop almost everything the Railroaders attempted. The Hawks own running attack however, was stopped with a total of 74 yards gained from scrimmage.

There was power in every play, too much power for Carrollton to stem. The Railroaders showed in their first drive, a smashing, crushing drive that carried them 74 yards for a touchdown, with individual plays gaining from five to 15 yards at a clip. Edwards banged the ball across from the two yard line on the final play of the drive.

"Jumping Jack" Alred, a powerful youngster for all of his 140 pounds, turned in the feature run of the afternoon when he slipped off tackle, cut back sharply and raced down the sideline 45 yards to the touchdown, outfooting the Carrollton safety man who tried to drive him out of bounds. Alred's running, full of twisting, pivoting tricks, kept the Carrollton line spread to catch him on his long run, and made the pile driving McConathy and Phenix work for long gains through the middle.

Roodhouse drove to its third touchdown in the second period from near the middle of the field, McConathy carrying the ball over for the marker that sent the Railroaders into the rest period with a 19 to 0 lead.

Carrollton braced at the start of the second half, and made its only threat when the Hawks completed several specially prepared passes, but the threat died out inside the Roodhouse 20 yard line when Phenix intercepted a pass. A kicking drive followed with Roodhouse working the ball into Carrollton territory. Roodhouse got underway again in the fourth quarter, driving 80 yards for the final touchdown. Phenix carried the ball over from the one yard line, after leading a slashing off tackle drive most of the way down the field.

Roodhouse blockers and linemen did a particularly artistic piece of work in cleaning out Carrollton tacklers, and smacking the secondary defense on almost every running play. Particularly impressive was the battle between Red King, Roodhouse tackle, and Capt. Rief, of the Carrollton squad. Roodhouse finally detelling from two and three men to get the Carrollton captain out of the way. Rief was a stoutout on defense for the Hawks, while the whole Roodhouse line functioned successfully both offensively and defensively.

Capt. Pich threw a 29-yard touchdown pass to Berry for Stateville's touchdown in the second quarter. Pich failed in an attempted plunge for the extra point.

Gary scored in the third quarter after a long march when Kedrovski went through right tackle on a cut-back from the three yard line. Kedrovski was stopped at the line of scrimmage when he tried to duplicate the play for the extra point.

Edwardsville Is Winner Over Routt

Coachless Club Pushes Over One Touchdown But Loses Out In Final.

Getting their attack into complete functioning power in the second half, Edwardsville high took charge of the football game on the Illinois College field against Routt high Saturday afternoon to drive over two touchdowns in the last half and snatch a game out of the fire 12 to 7.

Routt, saddened by the illness of their coach's mother, Mrs. J. W. Baptist, came out to shove over their touchdown and get the point in the first quarter, but the team fell in pieces in the final half when Edwardsville poured out every thing they had.

The Rockets were good enough to drive 41 yards for a touchdown in the first quarter, advance it to Edwardsville's 20 yard line in the second period, and take it deep into Edwardsville territory again in the third period, but they couldn't stop the balanced machinery that Coach Steve Kole set in motion when the second half opened. Routt piled up 12 first downs to ten for the invaders, but got three fourths of them in the first half.

Led by Hyten and Brendle, who spread the Routt defense with runs off the tackles and around the ends, the visitors kept the secondary defense well back to stop an aerial attack. They injected several dazzling passes into their drive during the final half one of them chalking up a touchdown near the middle of the field.

The Rockets got off well when they kicked Edwardsville into a hole on the opening kick-off, and kept them there until they had a touchdown, although it was some time later. There was plenty of kicking until midway of the quarter when Lawrence who again served as the spear-head of the Routt attack, carried a punt back ten yards to the visitor's 41 yard line. Lawrence picked up 15 yards on two tries, got two more, rested one play and then smashed loose for five more, putting the ball on the Edwardsville 20. Buoy helped him out with a five yard gain, but Lawrence went to work to gain three more yards, putting the ball on the 12 yard line.

Sweeping out into the interference, Lawrence led Kindred on a dash for a touchdown, and then carried the leather across himself for the extra point.

Edwardsville made a few futile efforts in the second quarter, but the Rockets forced them back, with the aid of a 15 yard penalty. They lost the ball on the 20, and from then on the two teams spent their time taking a couple plays as the rain came down, and then kicking to their opponents, each praying for a break.

The break came when Edwardsville kicked to the Routt 5 yard line, but after they got the ball on the Routt 25, they completed one pass and saw two other fail without reaching a receiver as the half ended.

Edwardsville rejuvenated itself during the rest period, and came back to drive the ball down to the Routt 13 yard line, where a fourth down pass gained only two yards, not sufficient to win another first down. Routt kicked out to the 40 yard line, and Edwardsville came right back, Prante shooting one pass to Stubbs for eight yards, whirling around the end for 15 yards, and shooting another pass to R. Webb to put the ball on Routt's 10 yard line. Still another pass moved the ball to the two yard line, and Hyten smashed across the goal line for the touchdown.

Still a point short, Edwardsville shot the works in the final quarter, opening up with passes when in their own territory after Routt had barged their way to the Edwardsville 24 yard line. An intercepted pass sent the invaders flying out of the goal area, and forward passes, one for 10 yards, another for five, and two runs totaling 15 yards around the ends put the ball in the middle of the field.

There Edwardsville yanked out a pet lateral pass play, with Prendle coming up with the ball in his hands for a 40 yard run for a touchdown. Routt failed to get out of the hole Edwardsville's next kick-off placed them, and the game ended with the visitors making another threat.

Plans Suit Against State Racing Group

Charged with Having Run Horse as Two Year Old in Event

Chicago.—(AP)—J. D. Mikel of Carrollton, Ill., barred from the Illinois turf for life, today planned a $100,000 damage suit against the Illinois Racing commission.

The commission yesterday approved the action of the Lincoln Fields Jockey club stewards who ordered Mikel barred August 15 for allegedly having run his thoroughbred, My Babe, as a two-year-old. The stewards claimed the horse was a three-year-old. After a long investigation, the commission, by a vote of two to one, upheld the suspension, and ordered Mikel's license revoked. Peter B. Carey, chairman of the commission, cast his vote for Mikel, but was overruled by the other members, Leo Spitz and Walter C. Peacock.

Mikel, through his attorney, Charles Michael, announced he would start suit against the commission seeking $100,000 damages and reinstatement. The commission also ruled off for life six others, Jockey Andy Anderson, William Paris, Trainer Lester Rice, Veterinarian Stortz, C. A. Briggs, and J. Baker. Anderson was charged with violating the rule prohibiting riders from wagering on mounts other than their own, and with giving Busy Spain an unsatisfactory ride at Sportsman's Park, October 22.

Paris was banned in connection with the "sponging" of Exponent at Hawthorne, October 15, while Rice and Stortz were charged with attempts to steal saliva test jars at Fairmount park. Briggs was barred for having in his possession paraphernalia which might have been used in stimulating horses at Fairmount. The action against Baker, a former trainer, was taken on a charge of "touting" at Fairmount.

Michigan Wins From Columbia

By Bob Cavanagro.

New York, Oct. 26.—(AP)—The first invasion of the big town by a University of Michigan football team was crowned with success today when the maize and dark blue warriors out-weighted their opponents by more than 20 pounds to the man, defeated the Columbia Lions, 19 to 7, at Baker field before a near capacity crowd of 34,000.

The big raiders from the midwest actually put the game on ice in the first five minutes of play when they put across two touchdowns to roll up a lead of 12 to 0. Columbia buckled down to business thereafter and outrushed and out-played the Wolverines, but fate and fumbles, not to mention several off-side penalties, contrived to keep Michigan in front.

The victory was Michigan's third of the season after being beaten in the opener by Michigan State.

COMPLAINANT BIDS IN GARAGE PROPERTY

The Ziegler garage building at Morgan street and Dunlap Court, and a residence property located immediately east of the garage, were offered to the highest bidder at a foreclosure sale yesterday morning at the court house. The only bid, $13,440, was submitted by representatives of the First State Trust & Savings Bank of Springfield, complainant in a suit against Arthur B. Ziegler, et al.

The sale will not affect the garage business which will continue in its present location.

Keep Carthage in Hot Water all Day And Score in Second And Fourth.

Carthage, Oct. 26.—Knocking Carthage back on their heels at the very outset, Illinois College today won its first start of the season with a 12 to 0 victory before a large crowd attending the inauguration of a new Carthage College president, and a homecoming day gathering.

Springing the Carthage passing before it got underway, unleashing a few fancy tricks of its own, and holding the Carthage running attack to a minimum, the Blueboys blocked and charged under the constant watching of Capt. Abe Feduris and Capt. Lou Davis, both of whom played outstanding games, along with Willis Munger and Vernon Ford.

Feduris put Carthage in the hole when he rushed through to block the first of two punts he stopped during the day, and although his effort did not lead to an immediate score, he inspired his team-mates.

In the backfield, Ray Smith and Sam Mangieri took the top honors, with the rest of the backs holding up their end of the game. Smith handled the punting and did a creditable job from start to finish, his long low kicks not giving the Carthage backs a chance to handle the ball.

The Blueboys, working behind some excellent interference, drove 80 yards for their first touchdown in the first quarter, after missing one chance to score from the Carthage 5 yard line. It was after Feduris had blocked a punt on the Carthage 9 yard line, recovered by Rockett at Carthage on the two yard line, that Illinois opened up.

Starting on their own 45, the Blueboys opened up a 15 yard hole for Mangieri, to the Carthage 40. Smith made a yard, and then the Blueboys pulled a forward-lateral out of the bag for a 20 yard gain. Mangieri passing to Lambaiso, who lateraled to Donat. Ray Smith made seven yards on a smash. Lambaiso got two, and Carthage lost five more on an off-side penalty.

Smith Goes Over
Smashing off tackle, Ray Smith raced nine yards to the one yard line, and then shot over tackle for the touchdown. Walker's attempt to place kick the point was a failure.

A series of hair-breaking bad breaks failed to check the Blueboys shortly after the third quarter opened. Donat getting away for a 30 yard run only to be called back because the Blueboys were offside, and then losing another gain because there were only six men on the line of scrimmage. Clem, who had succeeded Smith in the line-up, punned to the Carthage 17, where the Redmen attempted to pass. Gelger passed, but Spurner intercepted it and returned it to the Carthage 12 yard line. Clem shot a short forward pass to Mangieri, and Mangieri ran wide to leave the rest of the Carthage team behind and score. The attempted plunge for the added point was unsuccessful.

The Blueboys missed on a 65 yard drive into Carthage territory, a pass on the fourth down from the three yard line failing to connect after Mangieri had raced ten yards on two plays, picked up another yard, and had gone four, and Smith three. The longest pass of the Blueboy offense, from Mangieri to Walker, put the ball on the Carthage 11 yard line, but after Smith had picked up five yards and Mangieri two, two plays failed.

Behemoth Gets Going
Rickart, Carthage's big 210 pound roly-poly fullback, created the only scoring chance the Redmen were able to set up shortly after the final quarter opened. Shopped all afternoon by hard head-on tackles, Rickart was freed by Tony Donat, the burly boy got away from his own 27 to the Illinois 42, a 31 yard gain, before he was hauled down. Gelger ripped off ten more yards and Rickart rolled to the Illinois 20 before the mad rush of the Redmen was checked.

There Rickart made but a yard, a lateral pass gained seven yards. Walker made a yard, but with only a yard to go, Carthage elected to pass. Ray Smith slipped it to the ground in the end zone. That was Carthage's only threat. They spent the remainder of the afternoon on defense when in their own territory, or were busy trying to figure out where the Blue-boy attack would strike next.

Illinois piled up 11 first downs to five for Carthage. The Blueboys registered seven of their total in the first half while holding Carthage to two.
